Devotional

A lifeline for following Christ:

The Prophet Isaiah describes his relationship with God as a relationship that has two-way communication. He said; "The Sovereign Lord has given me an instructed tongue, to know the word that sustains the weary. He wakens me morning by morning, wakens my ear to listen like one being taught. The Sovereign Lord has opened my ears, and I have not been rebellious; I have not drawn back." (Isaiah 50:4-5) The key to Isaiah's relationship with God lies in four important principles:

1. He had an instructed tongue. Isaiah had given over the rule of his life completely to God's purposes.
2. He knew the word of the Lord, which allowed him to be sustained and encourage others.
3. He took the time to listen.
4. He did not flee from the tough assignments.

If we are to be listeners of God, we must follow the same principles. Knowing and spending time studying God's Word allows the Holy Spirit to bring to mind His instructions for what He wants for us. This is the lifeline for the follower of Jesus Christ. Let me suggest that we all invest our lives in this relationship so that we may continue to hear His voice. By doing so He will sustain our weary lives. Be encouraged.
